We're back after lockdown and have news to share!

The Avenue 2020 project is now into the final two months and we have been very busy behind the scenes.

Throughout September, our project manager and workshop organiser worked hard to transition the Isaac Watts workshops from in-person to online delivery. Six sessions have been designed for three separate groups and we are half way through, with three sessions left to go.

Participants have enjoyed learning from professional musician and songwriter, Louise Jordan, and they are working to produce some exciting outcomes, so watch this space!

We have completed the content for our heritage trail and 8 banner display series. All the text and photographs are now with our commissioned local designers, The Two Sarahs, and the finished results will be showcased at our open day on Saturday 28th November 2020!

The open day is currently being planned and will be delivered virtually. Highlights will include a guided tour of the exhibition and a performance from Louise Jordan, inspired by Isaac Watts. More details coming soon!
